

---

UNCATEGORIZED

Published on July 10, 2019 — Leave a comment

SMC Response to Recent Denver Post Article

written by smcblog

Dear Friends,

An article in the Denver Post and Boulder Daily Camera published on Sunday, July 7th provided examples of misconduct and mishandling of reports of abuse at Shambhala Mountain Center between the late 1990s and 2008. The article is linked here: <https://www.denverpost.com/2019/07/07/shambhala-sexual-abuse/>

SMC's Governing Council and I want to acknowledge and apologize for the reported incidents and the pain caused by the failure to address them appropriately. In one, a former SMC staff member recalled being treated as the problem when she alerted SMC leaders in the late 1990s to what she and others believed to be a sexual relationship between a middle-aged staff member and an underage girl. In the other, a former staff member reported that in 2008 SMC leadership failed to intervene and instead blamed her when she sought help freeing herself from an abusive relationship with another SMC community member.

That these incidents occurred in past decades does not absolve current SMC leadership of our moral responsibility. We commit to learning from our past shortcomings and improving our ability to create a safe place for all of our guests and staff.

Following last June's revelations of sexual and other abuse in Shambhala, our staff and leadership made the following commitments:

1. To not minimize or rationalize the harmful behaviors of the Sakyong or any other teacher or leader of Shambhala.
2. To stand with the women who had come forward.
3. To do what is right, even if it jeopardizes SMC's existing power structures or financial position.
4. To offering transparency then and in the future.

Today we are emphasizing our commitments not to minimize or rationalize any harmful behavior that occurred at SMC at any time and to creating a culture that does not tolerate such behavior. We also pledge to have policies and procedures in place to ensure that reports of harm are appropriately addressed, and that those who have experienced or reported harm are not blamed, diminished, or left unheard.

These commitments have led us to develop a revised Code of Ethics and grievance procedure applicable to all of our staff, teachers, and guests as well as to provide regular training for all of our staff to ensure that each of us is committed and has the capacity to recognize and respond properly to allegations of harm. These efforts include ongoing training sessions led by the Sexual Assault Victim Advocacy ("SAVA") Center in Fort Collins.

We are also supporting the Larimer County Sheriff's Office investigation into alleged incidents in SMC's past. With the full support of the Governing Council, I initiated contact with investigators and have met with them to answer any questions they had. I've again been in contact with an investigator to make sure they are aware of the reported incident in the 1990s that came forward in the recent Denver Post article. I encourage anyone with information about illegal activity at SMC to contact the Sheriff's Office at (970) 498-5100.

Much has happened over the past year as SMC and Shambhala communities worldwide have grappled with the impact and implications of abuse. SMC is committed to acknowledging and taking responsibility for past mistakes, responding to any allegations of harm in a timely and effective manner, and creating a safe and wholesome environment that promotes respect and care for all.

Sincerely,

Michael Gayner, Executive Director
Connie Rogers, Chair of Governing Council

Amelie Bracher
 Alex Halpern
 Daniel Hessey
 Ming Linsley
 Clifford Neuman
 David Schreier
 Karen Wilding

FILED UNDER: Uncategorized

---

PREVIOUS POST

28,762 days

NEXT POST

Practicing Mindfulness and Awareness in Nature

---

Type to search...

---

RECENT POSTS

- Eddies in the Stream
- How to Be Yourself
- Writing as a Path to Awakening
- Practicing Mindfulness and Awareness in Nature
- SMC Response to Recent Denver Post Article

---

RECENT COMMENTS

- Stella Mary on Susan Piver on the Benefits of Meditation
- Thai Lottery Win on What is Dream Yoga? Andrew Holecek Explains
- Jampa on Healing and Showing Up

Frank Rigg on Healing and Showing Up

Sandra Granger on Healing and Showing Up

---

ARCHIVES

July 2019

June 2019

May 2019

April 2019

March 2019

February 2019

January 2019

December 2018

November 2018

October 2018

September 2018

August 2018

July 2018

May 2018

April 2018

March 2018

February 2018

January 2018

December 2017

November 2017

October 2017

September 2017

August 2017

July 2017

June 2017

May 2017

April 2017

March 2017

February 2017

January 2017

December 2016
November 2016
October 2016
September 2016
August 2016
July 2016
June 2016
May 2016
April 2016
March 2016
February 2016
January 2016
December 2015
November 2015
October 2015
September 2015
August 2015
July 2015
June 2015
May 2015
April 2015
March 2015
February 2015
January 2015
December 2014
November 2014
October 2014
September 2014
August 2014
July 2014
June 2014
May 2014
April 2014
March 2014
February 2014
January 2014
December 2013
November 2013

- October 2013
- September 2013
- August 2013
- July 2013
- June 2013
- May 2013
- April 2013
- March 2013
- February 2013
- January 2013
- December 2012
- November 2012

---

CATEGORIES

- Creative Expression
- Donor Development
- Life at SMC
- Mind-Body
- Mindful Living
- Nature
- Relationships
- Social Engagement
- Uncategorized

META

Log in

Entries RSS

Comments RSS

WordPress.org